Ten Cents

Postal Service is Losing Business

A recent study indicated that the average postal patron mailed 3.6 letters a week when mail was 6 cents. It dropped to 2.2 when the rate went to 8 cents and after the 10 cent charge, the average dropped to 2.2.

It is to be supposed that the recent 13 cent rate caused another and more sizeable reduction.

The change in postal habits by the public was brought into the spotlight by a recent decision of the Postal Service to advertise... somewhat in the fashion of telephone monopolies which spend huge sums to remind you that you're only a jingle away.

Against the possibility of failure of their advertising campaign, top brains of the Postal Service should plan now to take whatever steps that are necessary to shave postal rates on the basis that highways of commerce are strewn with wreckage of businesses which priced themselves out of the market.

Ask private enterprise why they've reduced mailing. More and more firms are telling their customers to pay by the invoice which is sent with the order... that no longer will statements be mailed. There's at least two pieces that are withdrawn from the mail on thousands of orders.

Some firms have dropped their bookkeeping mailings to zero. And on the flip side of the billing coin is the growing number of people who are hand-delivering their checks to pay their bills.

Reduction in mail volume is going to continue and cost of mail will keep rising.

There are many steps that could be used to cut operational costs. Closing one day during the week... like Wednesdays; requiring all residential postal patrons to set mailboxes at the road edge if they want delivered mail; advising by telephone the arrival of special delivery or registered mail and let the patron come to the Post Office to get it.

But most of all the headquarters brass must be screened out—particularly those who think up goofy things that cost rather than relieve. Example: the rate experts who make it less expensive to send some mailings first class than to send them as a combination of first and third.

There must be a balance somewhere between the continual complaint from USPS headquarters about the need for higher rates and the offers by private enterprise who offer to take over the mails, reduce the cost of postage, and pay the government a subsidy for the privilege.

Some firms are delivering bulk mailings for half the rate charged by the Postal Service—which proves that someone, somewhere is doing something wrong.

Cure for Pornography

Recently, readers of this publication were given an insight into the type of merchandise available in a local "Adult" book store.

The opportunity presented itself when a Lemon Grove adult book store was burglarized and the owner of the place gave to the sheriff's department a list of items lost to the burglars.

While the gadgets and contraptions on the list shocked many readers, it should be noted that the firm was operating within the bounds of legality.

The law, as it is presently interpreted, gives such shops more legality to operate than it give newspapers, or the police, the legality to harass them. Equally legal are the five massage parlors operating within walking distance of the sheriff's Lemon Grove office.

Officials are quicker to make investigations when responsible persons register complaints. And complaints followed the revelation of the book store's inventory—both to the sheriff's Lemon Grove office and to this newspaper.

A sheriff's undercover officer visiting the book store at 11 a.m. recently, after paying to watch pornographic movies, arrested the 27-year old woman manager charging her with solicitation for a lewd act and soliciting for prostitution. Her case will be heard in El Cajon Municipal Court. Because pornography is judged to be legal, no pornography charge was made.

A few days later, possibly encouraged by quality and quantity of complaints, more undercover men of the sheriff's department visited a Troy st. massage parlor and charged two 27-year old women with soliciting them for prostitution. Their cases likewise will be heard in El Cajon Municipal Court.

Porno shops and massage parlors bring with them severe problems.

Moral objections are obvious. Legal ramifications are more obscure.

A couple of weeks ago, Robert Dornan, a nationally-known radio-tv personality spoke at Grossmont College and told his audience (quoting from a New York Times article), that the Mafia controls 90 per cent of the pornographic market. And the filth is shielded by the First Amendment.

Sheriff John Duffy has warned many times that parlors are houses of prostitution where any type of sexual act may be purchased. Prostitution is big business under control of crime gangs, he has warned the County Board of Supervisors. The Board has yet to offer ordinances that would stop the burgeoning activity.

It may be that the Board's weak attitude stems from the district attorney's office in which the deputies do not prosecute with vigor all of the prostitution cases filed by police.

Once, an officer bitterly complained to the District Attorney's office regarding the hardship of getting a prostitution charge accepted and was reminded by a deputy DA that "... (we) have the only store in town."

Neither the courts nor district attorney's office seem interested in the State (PC 11225) Red Light Abatement Law. In abatement proceedings under that law, where prostitution or gambling has been found to exist, the building which houses these activities can be shut down for any kind of operation for one year. This, in addition to penalties against those operating or working in the craft. Of course, the trick is proving the charges. But it can be done if enough people complain.

In Los Angeles, Police Chief Ed Davis noted the relationship between the growing crime rate and the growing number of massage parlors. Choosing the Hollywood district with its 26 massage parlors he set about to reduce both activities. He faced there, as in San Diego, the court's frowning on field interrogations. Such testimony is usually tossed out during trials.

Chief Davis approved his own abatement program in which he authorized officers to park marked patrol units within visual range of massage parlors in Hollywood.

Instead of conducting field interrogations, officers in uni-

Sympathetic Robber Takes Receipts of Viking Liquor

A white male, about 22, pointed a .38 revolver at the clerk in the Viking Liquor Store, 8725 Broadway, Lemon Grove about 7 p.m. Thursday and said, "OK, give me the money in the cash register."

Cruisers Thin Out and Arrest Total Drops

The Thursday night Car Cruise appears to be running out of gas.

There were less cars and less people strung along Broadway Thursday between 8 and 11:30 than in previous weeks—and there were less arrests.

The "car happening" was

Gold Rings Lost In Business Place

David Gordon Butchart, operator of the radiator shop at 8404 Broadway, put his ex-wife's rings atop a block wall in his place of business.

That was a mistake. When he returned from shop duties the rings, in a box, were missing.

The two rings, yellow gold, one a wedding band; the other an engagement ring, had been appraised earlier, he told sheriff's deputies. The value, he said, was $350.

Sympathetic Robber Takes Receipts of Viking Liquor

The clerk, Charles Appleby of Spring Valley, complied.

The sympathetic robber, about 5-10 with light brown hair noted that Appleby's arm was in a cast and said, "Sorry about your hand."

He then admonished the clerk not to give him any checks, change or small bills—"just 20s."

Before he fled with $175, the robber ordered the clerk to lie on the floor. Appleby crawled to the rear of the store and called the sheriff's office.

Although the robber escaped, deputies in the Brookside area checking for the getaway suspect, stopped a car driven by a youth. The young man was able to establish his innocence in the matter of the robbery but was booked in county jail when investigation of his car turned up a "lid" of marijuana.

Court House Opened

Intruders used a knob twist to break into the Helix Court House, a handball facility at 9617 Campo rd., Casa de Oro on March 4.

The loss was $100 damage to the door and $35 in change taken from candy and pop machines.

Rainfall Totals

The March storm ended officially last week on Thursday and the rainfall total for the year to date was 8.14 inches.

On the same date in 1975 the total was 5.91.

Some rain fell after last week's issue went to press and the above figures bring the storm totals up to date.

Santee, Valhalla On June 8 Ballot

While voters in the Grossmont Union High School District are marking their Presidential primary ballots on June 8th, they will also decide on two separate school building bond issues, the District governing board decided Monday evening. Both will be protective Lease Revenue Bond (LRB) items.

Acting on the first of three alternatives delineated by school Superintendent Dr. Leiland Newcomer, the trustees approved unanimously a motion for a $14 million tenth high school to be built in Santee and gave the nod to a $2.5 million building completion project for Valhalla High by a 4-1 margin.

Tax Maximums

Translated into tax dollars, the issues specify a maximum of 21 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the new Santee school and another 4 cents for Valhalla. LRB legislation prevents the district from altering the original building plans or increasing the specified tax rates.

If construction bids come in lower than the building estimates, the board is obligated to lower the tax rates accordingly. If bids are high, in Newcomer's words, the project is "kaputt."

A Bad Name

Dissenting on the Valhalla issue was trustee Joseph Drew who told the board he felt the Santee school was imperative and that even a separate item on the controversial Valhalla High would jeopardize the chances of the new school's success.

Newcomer strongly backed the election issue and stressed the need for an early election date. Early action, he said in a report to the board, would prevent escalating costs due to inflation, allow for lower interest rates and make funds available sooner. If the election were postponed to the

Miguel Boosters Meet Mon.: Flea Market Held Saturday

The Mt. Miguel Boosters

Club holds a meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. open to old and new Boosters, alumni and interested citizens. Main agenda item is the fund raising drive for a Miguel swimming pool.

The Mt. Miguel Boosters, founded in 1957, is dedicated to adding to and improving school facilities. Over the years, the Boosters have been responsible for such additions as football bleachers, field lights, concession stands and uniforms.

Flea Market

The Club joins with the girls' softball and basketball teams in sponsoring a flea market Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Mt. Miguel's parking lot on Sweetwater rd. at Blossom Ln.

Stall rental is $2 plus 25% of gross sales.

Admission to the sale is 25 cents, children under nine admitted free.

Profits from the flea market go into the swimming pool fund.

For advance reservations and stall rules, contact Bill White,

November Presidential election he said, funds for the building project would not be available before July, 1977.

The governing board and Supt. Newcomer agree that new school facilities are badly needed in the district.

Newcomer is less than optimistic about the voter sentiment regarding the bond issues, largely due to the negative sentiments leftover from the Valhalla controversy and recessionary times.

People's Right

"I realize that this is probably not a good time for another bond election, but no time is a good time," he said. "I believe the people should have the right to decide whether the District should have a building program, not the superintendent or the governing board."

He stressed that the issues amount to "minimal" efforts to meet the overcrowding problems. The bond issue projects fall far short of the goal of adequately housing students in the growing East County district without resorting to double sessions, seen as nearly inevitable at all nine present schools within 3 years.

The issues, Newcomer said, are designed to help the board regain the credibility it lost in the financing of Valhalla.

Costs of Valhalla skyrocketed during administrative and construction delays and the school opened last year at 80 per cent of its original designed capacity. LRB legislation is intended to prevent such mishaps.

A burglar on March 2 slipped into the home of Ernie Lee Owen, a CHP officer who lives at 10235 Madrid way Casa de Oro and left with his revolver, a Colt with a 2" barrel valued at $125, a gunbelt, tape deck, turntable and speakers.

Following a knee injury in an auto accident, his right leg was amputated. Because he cannot stand long, he works as a telephone solicitor for Goodwill. He helped support a fatherless family by trapping furs while in high school in Fredonia, Kansas, where he played football. He also played piano for silent movies, a talent he got from his music teacher mother. Most of his life was in the garden supply business in sales, until the operation. Public TV Puts Best Footage Forward for Spring Festival

By John Kowalczyk
The area's public TV outlet, KPBS Channel 15, rounds the midpoint of its annual Spring Membership Drive this weekend. The commercial-free alternative to the prime time crime and sit-com circuit is maintaining a nightly on-the-air phone crew to accept membership pledges, as are other PBS affiliates across the country.

Marking the occasion, not coincidentally the network is putting its best footage forward to lure video viewers away from the Big Three and perhaps persuade a few to dip into their pockets for some financial aid.

Those tired of solving murder mysteries or counting canned laughs are advised to tune in — if not for a membership pledge, at least for a glimpse of some of today's better on-the-tube offerings.

Tonight's prime time kick off is a grabber. "Birth Without Violence" (7 p.m.) is a graphic black and white (thank goodness) portrait of a child delivery via the Leboyer method.

French obstetrician Frederick Leboyer is the man who asked the revolutionary question: Why does birth have to be such a traumatic occasion for the child? Lights are lowered, the room is kept extra warm and instead of the traditional jarring slap, the newborn is gently massaged on mom's belly.

The little guy whimpers a bit, but his initial reactions to life are a far cry from the more conventional beginnings, an example of which is shown in for contrast.

Following "Birth" at 8 p.m. is a repeat of the rare public TV ratings success "The Incredible Machine." New techniques in medicine and photography made possible this exploration of the extraordinary functions of the human body. If you can't tear yourself away from the Waltons for this one, the show is re-run Saturday at 7 and again Sunday at 5.

Emmy Winners
At least 18 specials have been scheduled for the 15-day festival which began Sunday. Included are two 1975 International Emmy winners, "The Evacuees," a British drama set in WWII focusing on two brothers who are evacuated from a Jewish ghetto, and "Marek," a documentary tracing the steps of a young boy preparing for corrective heart surgery — which fails.

The network has sprinkled the schedule with Laurel and Hardy comedy classics dating back to their silent screen days. Some of the offerings, says PBS, have never been seen on TV.

These are but samples of the programming available through March 21, the Spring Drive's finale. A contribution of $15 or more entitles the viewer to a year's subscription to the station's monthly program guide which highlights the month's airings on both TV and KPBS-FM. The people you see talking on the phones between shows will be happy to take your pledge.

IN THE SHOW — One of the participants in the Bustamante antique show will be Lillian Kerr who owns three Lemon Grove antique shops — Pa Kerr's Country Store, Antique Investments and Lillian's Antiques. Among the items in her display will be ancient American furniture, tools, dishware and other memorabilia in keeping with the show's bi-centennial theme. Mrs. Kerr is a founding member of the local chapter of the Antique Dealers Assn. and claims to be the oldest antique importer in the area.

Antique Show to Benefit Children at Los Ninos

Quality antiques and a child's future are two priceless investments teamed at the second San Diego Bustamante Enterprises antique show held today through Sunday in downtown San Diego.

Ticket sales from the four-day show, held at the San Diego Convention Center, 202 C st., will benefit special education programs at Los Ninos Center for autistic children.

The National Charity League, Inc. and Ticketmakers, a mother and daughter service organization, are assisting in the promotion of sales and hosting the event.

Hours are 1 to 10 p.m. daily except Sunday when the hours are 1 to 6 p.m.

Regular admission is $2. Senior Citizens discount day is Friday, admission $1. Discount or group tickets may be obtained through Los Ninos Center.

Church, Kiwanis Team to Help Storm Victims
Lemon Grove Christian Church has teamed with the Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club in a drive to aid the victims of February's Tijuana mudslides. Last month's heavy rains washed out several homes in the border town. "Many of the unlucky people of Tijuana had to go to the city dump to find usable clothing and other household necessities," said Kiwanian Woody Mott. Donations may be left at the Lemon Grove Christian Church, 6970 San Miguel ave., or they may be picked up by appointment. To arrange a pick up, call 455-1888 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. The Tijuana Christian Mission will distribute the donated articles. "Donations are tax deductible," Mott said.

Money Loss $120
While William Louis Richmyre, of 8843 Lamar st., Spring Valley, was away from home a thief entered and took $50 in currency and $70 in coins and left without leaving a clue to how he entered. The loss was reported March 2 to the sheriff's department.

Hockey Dates Change; Playoff Time Nears

The remainder of their 1976 World Hockey Assn. schedule has undergone some changes but it's still a push for a post-season playoff berth as the San Diego Mariners host two-time AVSO Cup champion Houston in a pair of Sports Arena games this week.

Contests tonight and Saturday with the Aeros begin at 7:30 p.m. and follow a Tuesday visit to Houston, making a total of three appearances in five days against the Texas skaters.

A revision of the schedule after the closing of the Minnesota franchise leaves San Diego with six games against Houston and three vs. Phoenix in the WHA Western Division, two with Cleveland and Indianapolis and a single against Cincinnati in the East and one with Canadian Division Winnipeg. Six are home games and nine, including the last five, are on the road.

Coach Ron Ingram brings his club into the activity with only defenseman Jim Hargreaves on the injured list. Hargreaves suffered knee ligament damage, February 10, and may be out for the campaign.

Former Olympian

Rookie center Bob Dobek is in the midst of a ten-game professional tryout with the Mariners and the former U.S. Olympian and Bowling Green U. icer picked up an assist in his third game, March 4.

Dobek was the leading U.S. scorer in its five Olympic appearances with three goals and four assists and led the Central Collegiate Hockey Association in points in both his junior and senior years.

The Mariners last home game will be March 27 against Phoenix.

Jaws Add Two Players; Open Play Friday Night

The Jaws, San Diego's professional soccer team, added two new players to the team's roster as the first pre-season game nears.

The pre-season opener will be at 7:30 Friday against the Dallas Tornado at Aztec Bowl.

The new players, announced by general manager Paul Deese, are Phillip Cole, a right winger and Len Renery, a defender.

Cole is a member of the U. S. Olympic team. He's 19, 5-7, 150 pounds, and is extremely fast.

Renery was a defender last year with the Baltimore Comets — a position at which he will probably serve with the Jaws. He will be the Jaws "intimidator," Deese said. Renery is 26, 5-10, 175 pounds and a tough, rugged player with good experience.

He played two years with the N.Y. Cosmos before being traded to the Comets.

Kyle Rote Jr. will be spotlighted in the Tornado Friday game.

AztecsCagers In NCAA Playoffs

For the second straight year San Diego State's basketball team will play in the first round NCAA Basketball Playoffs, this time against defending Champion UCLA on McArthur Court on the campus of the University of Oregon. Tipoff time for the game in Eugene is 9:10 p.m.

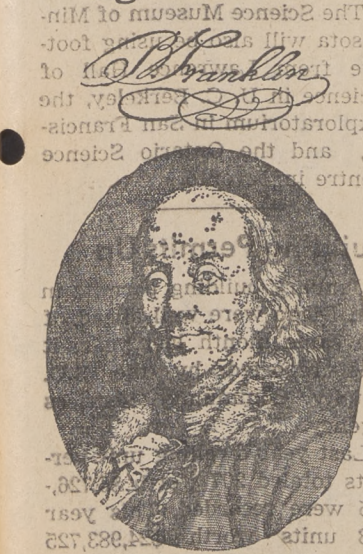

The Aztecs who lost to Nevada (Las Vegas) in last year's playoffs 90-80, come into the 1976 playoffs with a 16-12 record. San Diego State finished third in the PCAA with a 5-5 record but earned the right to go to Eugene by winning the conference's first post-season playoff in Stockton last week.

In the tournament San Diego knocked off San Jose State 67-64 in the first round and then topped host Pacific 76-64.

UCLA comes into Saturday's game with San Diego State with a 23-4 overall record and rated sixth in the nation. The Bruins won the PCAA Championship this season with a 12-2 record.

The Bruins are led by All-American forward Richard Washington who is averaging 20.6 points and 8.9 rebounds and forward Marques Johnson who is averaging 17.0 points and is the team leader with a 9.3 rebound average.

The Santee Sol won the S.V. Park and Rec. Coed Softball league tournament Monday by beating the Wild Bunch 10-4, according to Willie Williams, district supervisor.

In hoop play San Diego Hydraulic beat Coastal Rigging 57-55 to the S.V. Park and Rec. District Boys' "A" League basketball championship in the playoffs Saturday.

Agajanian, 62, Revives AMA 100 TT at Ascot

GARDENA — Four winners of American Motorcycle Assn. national TT events are among the entrants for the revival of J. C. Agajanian's 100-lap TT at revitalized Ascot, Sunday, March 21.

Rick Hocking the surprise winner of the Houston TT at the Astrodome in the opener of the 1976 Camel Pro series, joins Dave Aldana, winner of Ascot's 1973 national, and the Northwest stars, Chuck Joyner and Sonny Burres in this 1976 marathon.

The '76 100-lapper will be staged for $3,500, the largest purse posted by Agajanian since he started the event in 1961. The riders will line up in 11 rows of three — Indianapolis 500 style — in the feature after qualifying and two semis. Twenty of the starting field will be chosen directly from qualifying laps.

Although the event is limited to experts, it's possible that juniors may be accepted to insure that at least 44 riders take part in the qualifying and elimination heats. Interested juniors may call Agajanian's office (213) 321-5323.

While the 100-lapper was an Agajanian innovation, this 1976 affair will be his first as the master leaseholder. In earlier years, he was a subtenant.

In 1973 and 1974, Agajanian revived the event, but it was dropped last season during his convalescence from cancer.

In his new start at the age of 62, Agajanian has replaced virtually half the wood in the Ascot grandstands, repaved the concourse above the seats, and filled in the chuckholes in the parking lot. New paint abounds everywhere.

Terry Holladay Signed to Play World Tennis

Terry Holladay, one of the nation's top-ranked young women professionals, has signed to play for the San Diego Friars of World Team Tennis.

Although only 20, she is considered a strong candidate eventually to challenge Chris Evert for supremacy of women's tennis. Currently she is the upstart on the Virginia Slims circuit, reaching the semi-finals three times and ranks sixth among all players on an over-all performance basis. She is certain to qualify for the championship playoff next month.

Last week at San Francisco, Holladay, who resides in La Jolla, scored successive upsets of Francoise Durr and Martina Navratilova, the latter ranked number two among women players.

She joins Rod Laver, the 13-year pro who has won more major championships than any other player in the history of tennis, as the key players on the Friars' team, which will have three men and three women for WTT competition. Holladay, who plays left-handed, had her best tour showing prior to last week a year ago at Houston when she gained the quarter finals by defeating Margaret Court.

The Friars open their 20-match home schedule in the San Diego Sports Arena May 4 against Pittsburgh, the WTT champion. Season tickets starting at $35 are available by calling the Friars offices, 298-9855. Parking for all matches at the Sports Arena will be free.

Lake Open For Fishing

El Capitan Lake will open for the new season at Sunrise on Thursday. The San Diego Park and Recreation Department will operate the lake on a Thursday, Saturday, Sunday schedule from sunrise to sunset.

80 rental boats will be available on a first-come, first-served basis for the opening weekend.

form chatted with patrons only as they were leaving the establishments. Most patrons co-operated, telling officers what went on in the parlors. There was no element of harassment. One problem was garrulous patrons who not only co-operated but enjoyed talking about it. They took too much of the officer's time. A high percentage of patrons agreed to testify. Reluctance on the part of prosecuting attorneys diminished.

In three months the 26 massage parlors were reduced to three and these operate only spasmodically.

Sgt. Fred Cleveland, of the Public Inspection Unit of the Sheriff's Department, responding to this writer's questions about the effectiveness of responsible complaints to the police, acknowledged that officers frequently respond with more alacrity when complaints are registered.

He pointed out that evidence is hard to come by. It is impossible to observe what goes on behind the closed doors of a massage parlor. Seldom does money change hands in public and door breaking is illegal. The evidence his officers are able to obtain is the occasional solicitation made to an undercover officer. But the women are well-trained in the hazards of solicitation. Usually, they not only wait for the patron to make the request but they call in one of the other masseuses and ask the patron to repeat the request. Then they have a witness that "he" solicited.

This type of prostitution can be rocked back if enough citizens complain. Complaints should be registered with the county board of supervisors, the district attorney's office and the courts, as well as with the police.

And, finally, in a small eastern town which had two massage parlors and ineffective laws for closing them, responsible citizens formed picket groups. One sign told that the license numbers of patrons were being posted on the want-ad board in the town's supermarket. Another picket took pictures of patrons as they left the place.

The two parlors went bankrupt in weeks, our informant said. It could happen here, if residents volunteered.

On March 6 Associated Press, in the San Diego Union, reported that the California Supreme Court had ruled 4-3 that state public nuisance laws may be used to prevent display of obscene materials in stores and theatres.

The court said that exhibition of obscene magazines and films is a form of activity that "may be characterized as indecent . . . interfering with the comfortable enjoyment of life of a considerable number of persons . . ." the Union story continued.

In legalese, the court decided, "a civil action brought by law enforcement officers to restrain the exhibition of obscene books and films states a cause of action for relief under public nuisance laws of the state."

If You Believe You've Been Cheated

This column features a series of consumer protection advisories prepared as a public service by the California Trial Lawyers Association to warn consumers of some of the hazards of business dealings.

Consumers are urged to write CTLA for their Consumer Protection Pamphlet which tells "How Not to Be Cheated and Who to Contact If You Are."

The address is at the end of this column.

Reporting Rip Offs

In addition to seeking redress from a merchant whom you believe has cheated you, you should also report any case of fraudulent or deceptive practices to all appropriate law enforcement agencies.

This may not only benefit you, it may also benefit the community as a whole by helping to stop such activities by sharp operators who prey on the unwary, often just this side of the law but frequently blatantly scold laws.

The report should include the following:

1. Full names and addresses of the seller and all people involved in the transaction.
2. Names, addresses and telephone number of any witnesses.
3. Details of the transaction, including the substance or oral representations and the date and place of each.
4. Legible copies of all documents, including contracts, receipts, cancelled checks, and any other writings.

Agencies Listed

If you have been victimized by an unscrupulous merchant, you should report the fact to at least one and preferably all of these applicable agencies:

- Your local district attorney.
- Consumer Fraud Unit of the California Attorney General. (Southern California—Room 600, State Building, 217 W. First St., Los Angeles 90012)

• Federal Trade Commission. (Southern California—Room 13209, Federal Building, 11000 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles 90042)

• If the mails are used in any way, contact Postal Inspector in Charge, U.S. Post Office, 7th and Mission St., San Francisco 94101—or call any local Post Office and ask for the Postal Inspector.

Next installment we will discuss whom else to contact in cases involving specific items, trades and occupations.

To obtain a copy of the CTLA Consumer Protection pamphlet, designed to acquaint you with your rights in the law, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to CTLA, 1020 12th St., Sacramento 95814. Please specify whether you want it in English or Spanish.

65 Per Cent Two-Timers

207,748 offenders listed in the FBI's Computerized Criminal History file, were arrested during the years 1970-1974.

65 per cent of that total had been arrested two or more times. These individuals had an average criminal career of 5 years and five months (number of years between first and last arrest) during which they were arrested an average of four times each.

OFF AND RUNNING—Tom Cohelan, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 77th Assembly District, completed a 22-mile run across the district Saturday. The 30-hour run started in Claremont and closed with a picnic in Kennedy Park in El Cajon.

Cohelan ran the length of the assembly district to increase the public awareness of the size of the district and the need for a candidate with energy.

Two Lose CB Radios

Richard J. Wallingford, who parks his mobilehome at 1543 Angelus St., Lemon Grove, reported to sheriff's deputies February 26 that someone entered through an unlocked window leaving with items valued at $350.

A "Lafayette" CB radio and a "Bel Aire" 8-track stereo were taken.

The theft occurred while he was away.

On the same day James Harold Ingraham of 7395 Central Ave., Lemon Grove reported that a "Realistic" CB radio was taken from his unlocked pickup truck while he was in his house.

He listed his loss at $175.

Food Stamp Pgm. Faces Cost-Cutting Changes

It's going to get tougher to obtain food stamps, unless you deserve them.

Those who are receiving the coupons and can make do without them may have a more difficult time obtaining them by mid-year, the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) advised this week in announcing a series of proposed changes in the program.

The action was designed to set into motion reforms needed to eliminate abuses, control costs and concentrate benefits on those truly in need. The proposed regulations were issued at the direction of President Ford.

The recommended reforms would reduce overall costs by $1.2 billion, USDA officials estimate.

The Changes The regulations proposed by USDA's Food and Nutrition Service would:

— Provide for a 90-day income accounting period. Eligibility and benefits would be based upon average monthly income actually received during the 90 days prior to application for the program. This would replace the current method of estimating income for future months.

— Set a uniform national income standard of eligibility for participation of non-public assistance households at the poverty guidelines prescribed by the Office of Management and Budget. The poverty guidelines by household size are as follows:

Household Size	Maximum Monthly Income
1	$233
2	308
3	383
4	458

Meditators to Meet For TM Symposium

Those in town who practice Transcendental Meditation (or TM) plan to celebrate the dawning of "a new age of enlightenment" this month as the San Diego Center for the TM program sponsors a symposium featuring distinguished speakers from the fields of science, medicine, business and theology.

It is held Saturday, March 20 from 10 to noon and 2 to 5 p.m. in the House of Hospitality Ball Room in Balboa Park.

Invited are some alleged 10,000 persons now practicing TM in the San Diego area as well as others who would like to know more about it.

New Age

Maharishi Mahesh Yogi, founder of the Science of Creative Intelligence and the TM program, believes, according to a spokesman from San Diego's International Meditation Society, that because of the large number of people practicing TM and the growing amount of scientific research on the subject, "we see a new age dawning for mankind which will be characterized by happiness, harmony and peace."

"TM," the Society explains, "employs a technique which provides a level of rest which research has indicated is considerably deeper than sleep. Through this rest and relaxation, deep-rooted stresses are eliminated in the nervous system and corresponding harmony is developed between mind and body."

Among the speakers appearing at the symposium will be Peter L. Salk, research assistant at Salk Institute, and Dr. Paul Levine, one of the world's foremost researchers on brainwaves.

Troop 322 Pays Homage To Honored Boy Scouts

Ascending to Life Scout rank, second highest honor in scouting, were Bruce Voelp and Brad Compton. In addition Voelp received honors for communication, fire arms and environmental science. Compton received safety, sports and personal fitness badges.

Man Saves $1700 By Early Return

When L. D. Coy, of 10017 Ansel St., Spring Valley, returned home March 2 about dark, he thought he heard a noise from within.

Once inside he learned he had frightened a burglar away—but his timely return saved considerable money more than he lost.

Missing was $200 in currency, an old revolver and some costume jewelry, all valued at $400.

In other parts of the house there were three rifles which had been removed from their customary place and laid across a bed. There was also a pillowcase of valuables which had been gathered but left behind by the thief. Turquoise jewelry valued at $1700 was in the pillowcase as well as $600 in cash and other valuables. A set of house keys was missing.

The intruder entered through a rear sliding glass door.

Inventory Tax Forms in Mail

The County Assessor's office mailed 30,000 Business Personal Property Statements and 5,000 Landlord Statements recently.

According to County Assessor E. C. Williams, all business enterprises in San Diego County who receive the Personal Property Statement are required to declare their inventory, fixtures, equipment, and other taxable assets and to file this statement with his office by April 1.

"By law," Williams pointed out, "business concerns are entitled to a 50% exemption on inventories, but must report their full inventory to the Assessor, who will then calculate the amount of the exemption to be allowed."

Landlord Statements are mailed to owners of rental properties for a report of all personal property used in the furnishing of these properties. This statement must also be filed with the Assessor's office by April 1.

Questions concerning these statements will be answered at 236-3087.

More Construction For Rancho San Diego

The G. R. Smith Corp. of San Diego has purchased 19 single family cluster view lots in Rancho San Diego for a transfer tax value of $216,350. The homes will be located in the Sweetwater Village area on South Granada Ave. between Moundview and Glenside Sts.

Smith will begin construction immediately on the 3 bedroom, 2 bath single story residences to be marketed under the name "American Dream Homes". Prices will range from $38,800 to $41,800 and a sales office will open in mid March.

Fleet Theatre Stars In Science Movie

The Reuben H. Fleet Space Theater and Science Center is being filmed for inclusion in a fund-raising movie for the Science Museum of Minnesota.

The 15-minute color film will depict many of San Diego's Space Theater prototype advantages, including the Spitz Space Transit Simulator (Spitz Transit) and the giant Omnimax 70mm projector with the fish-eye lens from Imax Entertainment, Ltd., the 76' tilted dome interior of the theater, and the multiple exhibits in the "Please Do Touch" Science Center.

The Science Museum of Minnesota will also be using footage from Lawrence Hall of Science in U. C. Berkeley, the Exploratorium in San Francisco, and the Ontario Science Centre in Toronto.

Building Permits Up

January building permits in San Diego were well ahead of the same month last year, it was reported by the S.D. County Community Services Agency.

Last year dwelling unit permits totaled 207 worth $6,726,065 were recorded. This year 673 units worth $24,983,725 were shown.

All permits last year totaled 670, worth $14,524,695. This year's total was $28,760,785.

Back Pages

A look at the pages of this newspaper twenty years ago reveals some of the interesting contrasts between then and now. This column highlights some of the items that appeared in this newspaper at this time two decades ago.

By Bruce Binkowski

Turning back the pages of time by looking at back issues of the Lemon Grove Review/Spring Valley Bulletin gives us an interesting look at the tremendous change in the record industry over the last 20 years. For those who have followed rock music for the last 15 or so years, it takes somewhat of an adjustment to accept what teenagers liked in the way of music two decades ago.

The month of March, 1956 saw these records as the top five in San Diego: 1) "Memories are made of This" by Dean Martin; 2) "The Great Pretender" by the Platters; 3) "Lisbon Antigua" by Nelson Riddle; 4) "Rock and Roll Waltz" by Kay Starr; 5) "See you Later, Alligator," by Bill Haley.

A young Casa de Oro resident won a brand new bicycle on the Channel 6 television program, "The Johnny Jet Show." Sari Wade, age 9, a fourth grade student at Casa de Oro Elementary School had her name drawn from a large number of entries in a contest.

"Johnny Jet" phoned her at home, and asked the question that could win or lose a brand new bike. The question was: "Who was the first hostess in the White House, Mary Lincoln, Martha Washington, or Dolly Madison?" Remembering a book that she had checked out from the library concerning Presidential hostesses, the quick thinking Sari answered "Dolly Madison" and was awarded a new bicycle.

This week 20 years ago the Classified section of the Review/Bulletin included the following information: "IRONING, MY HOME, 75c AN HOUR." Under Wanted to Rent appeared: "WANT 2 BEDROOM, UNFURN, APT, HOUSE, OR DUPLEX, LG OR SV AREA — TO 75c." Finally, under Automobiles for Sale: "41 CHRYSLER—7 PASSENGER, GOOD RUNNING CONDITION, $40.

Chaplin, Keaton In Grossmont's 'Mirth of Nation'

Grossmont Community College's comedy film series, "Mirth of a Nation," continues Saturday in the Fine Arts Hall on campus featuring silent film giants Charlie Chaplin and Buster Keaton.

Keaton stars in the civil war story "The General." Chaplin is spotlighted in four of his early comedies with synchronized musical score and sound effects added.

Also on the bill is "Looking for a Girl" featuring Larry Semon.

Screen time is 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 75 cents is the fare. The program is repeated Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Cubic Nets Record

Cubic Corporation's net earnings for 1975 increased to a record high $1.22 a share while sales rose 24 per cent, topping the $92 million mark, was announced last week.

Cubic's Spring Valley subsidiary U. S. Elevator demonstrated dramatic recovery despite a depressed construction market, a Cubic spokesman said.

Letters to the Editor

Conde Rejects Discrimination In Reverse

Supervisor Lou Conde last week, slapped back at civil rights executive Clarence M. Pendleton, San Diego Urban League executive director, who had criticized the Board of Supervisors regarding their affirmative action program. He wrote:

Dear Mr. Pendleton:

I note with some interest the article in the February 27th issue of the San Diego Union where, in a speech to minority businessmen, you took to task the recent Board of Supervisors position relative to affirmative action programs concerning County vendors.

Proceeding on the premise that you understand the Board majority position that we will insist on a non-discriminatory policy on the part of the people from whom we buy goods or services, I can only assume that you are upset because three of us refuse to pursue a policy of reverse discrimination.

If the true goal of the civil rights movement was to pursue equal opportunity for all, you would have to consider yourself a racist to assume that what we should be pursuing is a policy of preferential treatment for minority individuals.

On His Oath

When I took this job, I took an oath to uphold the constitution of the United States. Last time I checked, that constitution still contained the 14th Amendment which states that all individuals are to be considered equal under the law. There is nothing there about preferential treatment. If I have missed something, please let me know as English is a foreign language to me and perhaps I have misunderstood it. Yes, Mr. Pendleton, I, too, am a legally recognized minority group member, just as concerned about employment discrimination as you claim to be. Further, the taxpayers elected me to administer their business in the most economical manner possible, more "bang for the buck," if you will.

Some Less Qualified

They didn't tell me to hire the less qualified or the higher priced if their skin is of a certain pigmentation. If that is the policy you want pursued then why don't you come right out and say so? Let's not be hypocritical, you're either for non-discrimination or for preferential treatment. Which is it? If it is the former please indicate to me where our vote violated that; if the later, you'll have to push for a constitutional amendment because right now that's illegal.

You claimed in your speech that you were going to ask the feds to cut off our funding. That sounds like blackmail to me. If federal funding is in some manner delayed or curtailed because of your complaint, the minority community will have you to thank.

No Discrimination

No member of the Board of Supervisors is attempting to discriminate in any way by this action, the reverse is true. You show us a county vendor that is employing discriminatory practices and we'll cancel his contract quicker than you can say Jack Robinson.

I'm afraid many people are confusing goals with quotas. I am opposed to, and will not support the establishment of a quota system for determining employment. If I find such a system mandated, I will work to abolish it. I believe in the principle of equal employment opportunity and will not subscribe to the philosophy that some are more equal than others. I certainly hope you don't.

Respectfully,
Lou Conde, Supervisor

Opposes County Mobilehome Ban

The County Board of Supervisors passed an ordinance making it illegal to put mobilehomes in the unincorporated areas except for mobilehome parks and subdivisions.

This act is going to hurt middle and low income citizens including senior citizens who need affordable housing so desperately.

The reason for the ordinance is that it produces more tax revenue for the less county services.

Misinformation people assume mobilehome owners in mobilehome parks are not paying their fair share of county taxes. A legislative study showed that counties come out better when these homes are taxed by the state as motor vehicles rather than as real property.

Counties are refunded a portion of state taxes paid by mobilehome owners so this becomes an indirect county tax.

Mobilehome park residents pay additional real property tax because of county property taxes paid by park owners. These taxes, naturally, are passed on as part of the space rental fee.

Additionally, the cost of maintaining publicly-used mobilehome park roads is passed on to mobilehome owners.

It is understandable why supervisors want to restrict mobilehome to parks or subdivisions but what really gries me is the preoccupation with getting the most out of the county taxpayer for the least county services in return. It becomes unconscionable in cases where hundreds of citizens are seriously hurt in the process.

A bill has been introduced in the State Assembly which would kill this ordinance.

Although I strongly oppose state interference in county affairs, this is one matter on which we need such help if the supervisors do not cancel this ordinance themselves.

Urges Citizens' Help On Fenced Pool Law

Dear Editor:

Because there is no law in the unincorporated areas of San Diego County requiring home swimming pools to be fenced there are many unsafe situations where swimming pools are not fenced or are only partially fenced.

On March 17, at 2 p.m. the Board of Supervisors will consider an ordinance requiring new swimming pools in the county to be fenced.

Unfortunately the proposal does not include existing pools. Five years ago the Supervisors considered a similar ordinance but failed to pass it.

If you are interested, write to all five Supervisors. Show support for the proposed ordinance and request that existing pools also be included.

The Supervisors are: Jack Walsh, Dick Brown, Lou Conde, Jim Bates, and Lee R. Taylor. The address is: County Board of Supervisors, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, CA 92101.

Utility Cries 'Foul' at Rate Hike Hearing

San Diego Gas and Electric Co. recently charged that a member of the rival consumer group San Diego Energy Coalition resorted to "dirty tricks" in contesting the utility's most recent rate hike application before the Public Utilities Commission.

The utility labels as deceptive a presentation by a member of the Coalition wherein he allegedly compared a list of typical electric rates from various California cities with government owned utilities to SDG&E's higher rates.

SDG&E called to question the Coalition's argument for publicly owned utilities in San Diego since the presented list was selective and excluded electric rates in Southern California cities.

To counter the argument, SDG&E produced a select list of Southern California rates which showed SDG&E's rates in a more favorable light.

Also presented were rates per use of 500 kilowatt hours (typical monthly average) in 18 major U. S. cities and in Tijuana, Mexico. San Diego's $22.01 is shown to rank seventh highest of U. S. cities on the list.

Of the six utilities with higher rates, one, in Los Angeles, is government owned. L.A.'s rate was $23.59 which ranked fifth.

Tijuana's rate was $36.08 per 500 kilowatt hours, 10 cents cheaper than New York City, highest on the list.

California Teen Candidates Sought

Young ladies between the ages of 13 and 17 are invited to enter the Fifth Annual Miss California Teen-Ager Pageant to be held at the University of California, Berkeley, June 25, 26, and 27. The Miss California Teen-Ager Pageant is the Official State preliminary to the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, in August.

Each contestant will be requested to participate in the Volunteer Community Service Program of the national pageant. The pageant theme is "What's Right About America?"

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, leadership, poise, personality and beauty. There is no swimsuit or talent competition. A Mini-Modeling Charm Course will be given during the week-end of the Pageant.

Among the prizes to be awarded this year are a scholarship and an all-expense-paid trip to compete in the Miss National Teen-Ager pageant.

Among the prizes awarded in the 1975 National Pageant were $10,000 in cash scholarships, a Lincoln-Mercury Bobcat, a $2,000 personal appearance contract, an 11-day trip to Spain and a mink cape.

Teens interested in entering the pageant may write to Mrs. Sybil Shaffer, 215 Piedmont ave., N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30308, or call (404) 659-4610.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1968—today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all it's worth... and keep it that way with automatic Inflation Coverage.

Stull Claims

Teachers' Retirement Pay To Boost Property Taxes

When the State Senate recently approved an eventual $137 million in additional taxes on the state's property owners, Sen. John Stull went to his typewriter to warn of the backbreaker that was being added and that no election will be held to implement it.

The money will fund school district contributions to the State Teachers' Retirement System (STRS), he says.

The cost to property owners will be a permissive (non-voted) tax of 15 cents, 10 cents and 5 cents for unified, elementary or high school, and community college districts, respectively.

STRS is currently funded by an employer contribution, an employee contribution, and a state contribution of $135 million a year. The employee pays 8 per cent of his salary. The school district's share will reach 8 per cent of payroll next year — thus the permissive new tax.

The new tax is insufficient to meet the obligation foisted on districts by the state, so "program" money has been used to satisfy the teachers' retirement requirements.

Countywide Tax

Under Assembly Bill 2009, said Stull, a special countywide tax would be levied to fund school districts' share of retirement costs. A countywide tax means that the same tax rate will be levied in all districts within a county, so that the taxpayers in some districts will be paying more than their own district's commitment to STRS requires.

"It will mean," says Stull, "a nonvoted 10 cent per $100 property tax increase in districts such as Borrego Springs and Julian, with such monies being used to help pay the retirement fund contributions of districts such as San Diego Unified."

"It will mean that a property taxpayer residing in a unified school district with a community college, who currently pays 20 cents per $100 for his district's contribution to STRS, will suddenly find himself paying 30 cents per $100, without ever having had an opportunity to vote on the matter.

Takes Program Dollars

"The primary argument for AB 2009 is that meeting retirement costs is taking larger and larger shares of "program dollars." But what are "program dollars"?

"Eighty-five per cent of all education monies go to salaries and benefits. So, what we are being told is that to meet the costs of the teacher retirement system, local school districts are being forced to use monies which would otherwise go to salaries," Stull said.

Dr. Flick Seeks Bob Wilson's Post

Arnold M. Flick, MD, a managing partner of the Internal Medical Center of San Diego, has declared his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the 41st Congressional post now held by Congressman Bob Wilson.

Dr. Flick said his concern for the increasing problems of the country and the inability of Congress to deal with them effectively on a long-term basis were reasons for his decision.

Health care delivery, inflation, energy crisis and unemployment are among the issues Dr. Flick will raise. He charges Wilson has lost touch with these and other problems.

Flick has a BS in Science, UCLA and an MD, U of Chicago. He served in the U.S. Public Health Service at the National Cancer Institute of Health.

"Thus, the state is being asked to impose an increased, nonvoted countywide property tax so that local school boards may use district taxes for salaries without worrying about retirement costs.

"Because the 8 per cent of payroll employer contribution to STRS will be raised through a countywide tax, a district may then increase its employees' salaries knowing that the taxpayers of all other districts within the county will be helping to pay the higher retirement costs associated with such a salary increase.

"That is, local districts want to have their cake and eat it too.

Voter Bypassed

"The legislature has acted to protect property taxpayers from continuing property tax increases by setting strict revenue limits for schools. School districts are generally prohibited from imposing higher taxes without voter approval.

"By passing AB 2009, however, the Senate has now acted to impose a tax rate increase of at least 10 cents per $100 without a vote of the people. We are saying that it is wrong for local districts to impose property tax increases without voter approval, but it is okay for the legislature to do so.

"This is pure fiscal hypocrisy.

"The entire question of school finance, of which retirement funding is just one small part, is worthy of a special session of the legislature. There is no justification for rushing through another Band-aid measure dealing only with the funding of STRS.

"Either the Assembly must stop AB 2009, or the Governor must veto it. The people cannot tolerate another nonvoted property tax increase while waiting for complete school finance reform."

Kennel Zoning May be Changed

The Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing at 10 a.m. Wednesday to consider proposed amendments to the Zoning Ordinance to revise the zone regulations for kennels.

The amendments would allow kennels in the A-2, A-3, and A-4 zones on lots of one acre or larger. It would also permit kennels on one acre minimum lots in the A-1, LC, and LC-A zones upon issuance of a special use permit.

Kennels are presently allowed with no minimum parcel size requirements in the LC, A-4, C-1, C-2, M-1, M-2, and M-3 zones and by special use permit in the A-3 and LC-A zones.

The hearing will be in Room 310 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway.

Proposed amendments will be available for review in room 306 of the Center.

Rohr thinks good energy habits start at home.

As one of San Diego county's major industries, Rohr pays a healthy energy bill every month. It's one they're trying to reduce as much as possible. But their approach to energy conservation on the job takes a little different twist from most.

Rohr emphasizes home energy conservation to employees with shows, displays and discussions. Because they believe that if people learn to cut down at home, they'll bring their good habits to work. What's more they'll better understand the economics of industrial energy saving and its importance to their job security.

Of course, Rohr uses other interesting energy-saving techniques, too. Like installing skylights to use natural brightness instead of electrical. And reminding night shifts, "when the sun comes up, the lights go off." They've reinsulated furnaces, rescheduled them for energy efficiency and shut down those that aren't economical. They've built boiler combustion air preheaters and a solar hot water heating system. They've eliminated many compressed air leaks. They're turning off heaters, air conditioners and lights automatically or manually when not required with the use of company conservation monitors.

From top management to the newest employees, the whole Rohr team is working industriously to save energy... as much as a 30% reduction in natural gas and a 23% reduction in electric power use since 1973. It's the kind of total effort we've been encouraging for the last five years... at home and at work.
